OUR COUNTY SOLONS

Sayings and Doings of Marion's Five Wise Men at Their April Meeting

Commissioner Lucius reported on the condition of Stokes' Ferry, which was endangered by a floating island blocking up the channel. Ferryman Waterman, with others, temporarily repaired the threatened danger and with a few piles will soon make it as good as new. The floating island had carried an old flat against the piling at the abutment and torn it away, which Road Overseer Tucker was ordered to repair.

Mr. Long's report of the poor farm was interesting, in that it showed the total expenses of March to be $136, less syrup and lettuce sold, $3.35. The lettuce crop consisted of two crates, which Superintendent Clarence Priest had prepared to go to Washington, D. C., but some one assured him New York was the market. Net returns, 20 cents. Of the amount paid out, some $30 consisted of fertilizers.

The acreage in crops is 14 acres in corn, 6 acres in pinders, 3 acres in sugar cane, 3 acres in cantaloupes, with sufficient planting in vegetables to run the farm if the season is favorable. There will be set out a number of acres of sweet potatoes, and a lot of woodland will be planted in velvet beans.

An interesting discussion followed between Chairman Long and Commissioner Fort about fertilizers, the kind to be used for different crops.

Mr. Long's experience was that cotton seed meal applied too close to growing crops scorched the roots of plants, but said good results were received the second season from ground enriched by cotton seed meal applied the previous season.

Collector Thagard's report showed that he had collected for licenses $65.65, of which $3.75 was for the state $65.65, of which $43.75 was for state.

On motion of Commissioner Fort, F. Z. Wellhorner's resignation as road overseer for the northern part of District No. 4, was accepted.

Not less than five road petitions were presented, which under the rules will lay over until the next meeting. The most interesting one was that championed by Frank Dupree to change the course of the Ocala and Flemington hard road, near Fairfield. It seems the high waters have flooded it and made it impassable, so that travelers have to pass through Mr. Light's field. The object of changing its course is to obviate this low place and put it on higher ground.

Complaint was made by Inspector of Marks and Brands Freeman, of Belle-ville, against Frank Lipsey for offering hogs for sale without reporting the mark and brand. This is a serious offense, the fine being $100. The clerk was instructed to point out the law to him and tell him to "do so no more."

The chairman read a communication from the Good Roads Bureau of Inquiry at Washington, requesting that they be furnished with statistics of Marion's good roads, number of miles, cost, and material of which they are made. The clerk was instructed to furnish the desired information.

Report of Commissioner Fort was to the effect that Contractor Batton had not constructed the new flat at Moss Bluff ferry according to plans and specifications. He failed to properly caulk and pitch the outside of the flat. The time specified for its construction had lapsed. Mr. Fort was instructed to see Mr. Batton and try to have the matter adjusted and the flat completed. The rainy weather had something to do with the delay, and want of implements to aid in its completion. Mr. Batton had been paid on account $20.

Mr. Wartmann said it was evident that Mr. Batton had offered to construct the flat too cheap, had lost money on his contract, but he was willing for the board to do the fair and right thing with Mr. B.

Mr. Long's Report

Mr. Holder's phosphate plant near Dunnellon and ascertain something about its value from the output, as Mr. Holder protested against his tax assessment for 1902, his mine being on the books at $20,000, which he deemed excessive. Mr. Holder was unexpectedly called to Cincinnati on important business, but left Mr. King, his manager, to show Mr. Long around. Mr. King showed Mr. Long an abandoned mine, where the product is impaired by too much iron in the rock. When active mining is going on, they have taken out between 1200 and 1300 tons of phosphate in three months. The royalty paid was on its market value. When the price was less than $4 a ton the royalty was $1. The income on the mine in a year was something like $2900. The mine employs 53 convicts and several white persons to oversee and manage the business.

Speaking of output, Mr. Long said it was twice the quantity mined from the Rawls mine; value of product the same. The question then arose as to Mr. Long's recommendation, which he said should be $15,000. This, after a general comparison of views was sanctioned. In this discussion Mr. Wartmann and Mr. Fort were the principal speakers.

Mr. W. thought a man should not be taxed for hustling, but Mr. Long and Mr. Fort said the phosphate was the thing of value and if the mine was exhausted this year no more taxes could be had from that source. "Then," said Mr. Wartmann, "tax the output." So did Mr. Long, who said he accepted Capt. Inglis' idea, get the tax while
